ALL REPUBLICANS.

CARRY EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

The Entire Republican County and State Tickets Elected. Very Small Vote Polled.

The indications are that the republicans carried the state of Wisconsin by between 35,000 and 40,000 plurality. There are at this time many localities to hear from, but these will probably not make any great change in the final result. The vote throughout the state was very light, indicating that there were a lot of the voters who could not decide just where they were at, and stayed away from the polls. They knew there was something the matter with the republican administration, but evidently could not settle in their minds just where it was.

In Wood county the vote varied considerably, although there was evidence of a great many straight tickets having been cast. LaFollette carried the county by something over a thousand plurality, and the other republican candidates won by varying majorities, running down as low as two hundred, so far as can be told by the returns now in. Vincent and Sutor made the best run on the democratic ticket, and they lost by enough margin so that it was evident what was coming even early in the evening.

Webster Brown also carried the county by a slightly less majority than LaFollette, and reports from other counties in the district indicate that Brown will be elected.

All of the men on the democratic county ticket made a good run, and had the result been at all close at the head of the ticket, several of them would have been placed in office. The boys all made a good run, and while they did not secure enough votes to win out, they kept their republican adversaries guessing up to the last minute and showed that they were in the game at all times.

NEARLY A TRAGEDY.

Three Men Narrowly Escape Drowning at Biron.

Joe Schultz, Tony Schultz and Adolph Neovski had a narrow escape from drowning on Friday while attempting to cross the river in a boat at Biron.

The three men had entered the boat just above the dam, and pushing off from the shore, they were caught in current and swept over the dam before they could do anything to save themselves. Some of gates in the dam were open and this made a stronger current than they figured on. The two Schultz brothers made their way to shore all right and had no difficulty with the exception of a thorough wetting, but young Neovski was unable to swim and managed to catch hold of a rock that jutted out of the current just below the dam.

The water was so swift here that it was impossible to reach him with a boat, but a rope was thrown to him, which he fastened about his body and those on shore pulled him to safety.

When he reached shore however, he was pretty well filled up with water, and his companions took him to the engine room of the mill and used their best efforts to resuscitate him, which they succeeded in doing after some work.

The boys lost a wheel which they were carrying with them in the boat, as they were unable to find it after they had got ashore themselves. It was indeed very lucky that the accident did not result in the drowning of one or more of the occupants of the boat, they being favored by the fact that the accident happened very close to shore.

High School Notes.

Monday morning we listened to a worthy address by Rev. Mr. Shaw. Rev. Shaw's object was to give us an increased interest in our studies at the present time and in education in general. He stated that the lowest achievement of education was to procure a living. Taking an algebra problem as an example, he carefully explained the utility of it, and showed how we could intensify, deepen and quicken our interest in our studies. Mr. Shaw stated that the life of man is a life of intelligence, and as the mind is constructed on a logical plan, can only be logical when it sees the relation and order of things in the universe. True intelligence gives us a growing capacity to see, know, understand and to enjoy.

J. A. Gaynor favored the school with an address last Wednesday morning. He showed us definitely that for every article used by us, or for any food consumed that we are the world's debtor. He divided the people of the world into three classes, those who depend on charity, or paupers, those who steal, or thieves, those who work, or working men. Mr. Gaynor urged us young people to belong to the working class and to qualify ourselves here in school in order that we may pay our debt to the world and render service for service.

The senior class has finished reading Schiller's "Der Neffe als Onkel" and are now reading Arnold's "Fritz and Perien."

Friday afternoon the public schools of this city enjoyed a vacation because of the Teachers' association.

The Virgil class had an examination on the first book of the Aeneid Thursday morning.

The class of 1903 held their regular monthly class meeting on Wednesday.

Miss Ella Dalke of the class of 1902 was a high school visitor Friday.

DIES FROM INJURIES.

Tramp Who Was Beaten at Auburn-dale, Dies in Hospital.

An unknown tramp, who was hanging about Auburndale, received a severe beating on the night of October 25th and was subsequently taken to the hospital at Marshfield, where he died on the afternoon of the 28th, after lying in a comatose condition the greater part of the time since he received his injuries.

The man was identified by W. W. Noll as one Charles Curtis, who had formerly lived at Waldo and where his wife and three children now reside. Mr. Noll formerly lived in Sheboogan county and knew the man at that time.

Curtis appeared at Auburndale on the morning of the 25th and spent the day in loafing about the place. He had all the appearance and actions of a common tramp, and no especial attention was paid to him. The next day it was reported that an unknown tramp had got mixed up in a drunken brawl, during which he had received a severe beating, from the effects of which he was liable to die. The man was in the village lockup, from where he was removed to the hospital at Marshfield when it was found that his injuries were liable to prove serious. Here he died without gaining consciousness enough to tell those about him what his name was.

It subsequently developed that the man who had beaten Curtis was John Kennedy, who resides at Auburndale. Mr. Kennedy stated that he had been awakened in the night by his wife who, had heard a noise as if some one was trying to get into the barn or that something was the matter with the horses. Kennedy got up and went into the yard where he was met by a man who attacked him with a club. Kennedy showed fight and knocked the fellow down and then proceeded to punch his head. After this the man seemed to be senseless and Kennedy summoned some of his neighbors and litching up his team the man was taken to the village lockup.

He lay here for two nights and not gaining consciousness the doctor in charge concluded that he had been injured seriously and had him taken to Marshfield and placed in the hospital, where he subsequently died. An inquest was held and the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Charles Curtis had come to his death from the effects of blows administered on the left side of his head by one John Kennedy, and also that the blows had been administered in self defence.

Epworth League Notes.

The Epworth League contributed its share to the general Halloween merriment by giving a party in the Epworth parlors of the M. E. church. Young America was well represented and came with abundance of mirth pent up so that it could flow in the stream of enjoyment which all sought. One of the novel and entertaining features of the evening was a procession of those beings which have been the terror of every age and to which the world has given the name ghost. Egyptian darkness preceded their advent and continued with intermittent flashes of light during the period of their weird song and slowly moving train. The Mandolin club captivated the ears of all with several fine selections, its only rival being a sheet in human form which, while in repose, let forth several sonorous snores, dignified with the name of a piece of sheet music. Many took advantage of the opportunity to be initiated into the renowned society of the ghosts and to have their past, present and future told by two charming gipsies. Rosy checked apples and snowy popcorn satisfied the craving of the palate and humorous games brought laughter to those present.

The subject of next Sunday's lesson is entitled "God's Covenant and Ours." Miss Ruby St. Amour is the leader. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The regular monthly business meeting was held Tuesday evening in the church parlors.

The attendance contest is still in progress. The Red side has now 202 points and the White 201.

Library Hours Changed.—Owing to the fact that the school children have complained because the time was so limited between the closing of school and the time that the library closed in the afternoon the library commissioners have decided to change the hours of the institution somewhat. Hereafter the library will be open from 2:30 until 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 8:30 in the evening, with the usual time of 9 to 12 on Saturday forenoons. After six o'clock the children's room will be closed, and although the lights will not be out, no books can be drawn or taken from the shelves. Children under 16 years of age are requested to draw their books before six o'clock. This is the plan that has been adopted in the greater number of the cities of this state, and parents are requested not to send their children to the library after 6, in order that no trouble may be encountered in enforcing the rule. It has been claimed that some of the children have been using the library as an excuse to get away from home in the evening and it is thought that this rule will avoid this in the future.

A Hot Campaign.—It is probable that there will never be a much livelier campaign in the state of Wisconsin nor in country of Wood than the one just finished. There is not a town hall or cross roads in the country where the natives in that section have not been told the story of what constitutes a good government, and especially a good set of country officers, both from a republican and democratic viewpoint, and that in several languages. The good natured candidates have also furnished various and sundry kegs of a foaming robust substance that after sufficient application is calculated to make a man vote right if he is at all susceptible to argument. The candidates on both sides of the fence admit that it is all foolishness but say they do not see any way out of it, and as a consequence it is probable that this method of campaigning will continue in the future in much the same way as it has in the past.

Will Do Undertaking.—J. W. Natwick has purchased from M. A. Bogger the undertaking business that was formerly conducted by Mr. Bogger and will hereafter conduct the business in connection with his furniture establishment on the west side. For the present the business will remain on the east side and Mr. Bogger will assist Mr. Natwick in the business, but as soon as Mr. Natwick has made room for the business he will move it across the river. There has long been a demand for an undertaking establishment on the west side, and there is no doubt that Mr. Natwick will give his patrons the satisfaction they have been receiving of the former owner of the establishment.

Lost His Labels.—A bottle containing a half gallon of peroxide of hydrogen blew up in Otto's drug store on Friday last and resulted in the loss of a large quantity of gummed labels which were stacked below where the bottle was sitting. As peroxide of hydrogen is not explosive and is generally supposed to be about as harmless as water, the cause of the explosion cannot be told. Mr. Otto still has the labels, but they are badly stuck up. His loss will amount to something like forty dollars.

Charity Ball.—The editor acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to the charity ball to be given at Marshfield on Friday evening, November 7th. The ball is given by the Helping Hand society, which is a charitable institution, and the society has given a ball every year for some time, the proceeds being devoted to relieving the suffering of poor people of the city who may happen to need assistance during the cold weather.

Married in Minnesota.—Edwin L. Schultz and Miss Hattie B. Hill were married at Madison, Minn., on Sunday, October 19th. Mr. Schultz was formerly a resident of this city, but left here some two years ago and has since been a resident of Canby, Minn., where he has been in the employ of the Land land agency. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz will make their home in Canby.

Halloween Dance.—The dance given by the Equitable and Fraternal Union on Friday evening was a very pleasant affair from a social viewpoint, but the attendance was not as large as could have been hoped for by those who had the affair in charge. The music furnished by the New Monarch orchestra was very good and everybody had a good time.

A Successful Sale.—The ladies of St. Catherine's Guild held a very successful supper and sale at the candy kitchen on Tuesday afternoon and evening, there being a good crowd in attendance the greater part of the day. They netted about $125 by their venture and wish to express their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage they received.

Halloween Party.—The young ladies of the Catholic church entertained their friends in a royal manner at a halloween party on Thursday evening at the Foresters hall. The hall was filled with seekers after amusement and as it had been decorated very nicely, it presented a very striking appearance. Those who attended report a jolly time.

Opened the Hydrants.
Some person or persons, evidently boys bent on playing a joke on some one, opened the hydrants on Milwaukee street on Friday evening last and allowed the water to escape from the standpipe.

Now, while this was intended as a Halloween prank and probably not done out of maliciousness, at the same time it might have proven serious to some of the inhabitants of our city. The standpipe was known to be full of water that evening and had there been an alarm of fire any time during the night it is not at all probable that the engine would have been taken out, but an attempt would have been made to get water from the hydrants, and before the mistake could have been remedied it is probable that damage would have resulted. Boys should confine their jokes to something harmless.

Use Printed Envelopes.

Last year 8,500,000 pieces of mail went to the dead letter office and all but 500,000 were returned to the senders. From letters there was taken $47,000 in money, checks, money orders and other evidences of wealth to the face value of $1,750,000. The superintendent of the dead letter office says: Every newspaper writer would perform an invaluable service by urging upon every person who writes a letter to have his or her address printed upon the left hand corner of the envelope. A letter so marked would never come to the dead letter office, but if insufficiently addressed or without the proper stamps it could be sent back to the sender. This is one line along which the public needs education.—Ex.

PRESIDENT HUNTS.

Roosevelt with Gun in Hand is Tramping Over Game Preserve in Old Virginia.

Manassas, Va., Nov. 1.—In the full glare of locomotive lanterns President Roosevelt at 4:30 this morning stepped briskly from his private car in the railroad yard here and greeted cordially the little group of newspaper men, special officers and railroad men who had gathered to see him start on his hunt for wild turkeys. He was attired in a khaki suit with leggings and over this was a long heavy overcoat. A black slouch hat was on his head as he alighted from the car.

A servant handed to him a double-barreled shotgun which he threw familiarly into the crook of his left arm. Secretary Root, who had preceded the President from the train, wore a canvas shooting suit, an overcoat and a golf cap. The President after a quick survey of the starlit sky remarked to Mr. Root that they were in luck as to the weather.

Travel on a Tie Pass.

The President and Secretary Root were joined by Surgeon General Hixler, Secretary Cortelyou and J. T. Leachman, sheriff of Prince William county. Sheriff Leachman was to act as the guide of the party on the turkey hunt. The party trudged for a quarter of a mile along the maze of railroad tracks to the carriages in waiting to convey them to the shooting grounds. They were followed by servants carrying a big hamper of mineral water and luncheon. As he walked briskly along the President remarked to Secretary Root: "I have tramped ties before in my time."

"Yes," responded the secretary with a suggestion of irony in the tone of his voice. "I have often thought that there was no active exercise so restful to the wearied mind as the tramping of railroad ties."

At Bull Run Battlefield.

The party entered carriages and started for the hunting grounds about four miles distant. This morning the party is hunting over a fine preserve of 1000 acres owned by Representative John E. Hixler, a brother of Surgeon General Hixler. While the President hopes to add wild turkeys to his hunting trophies he said this morning he was here particularly for the needed recreation the outing would afford him and for the purpose of going over the historic Bull Run battlefields which he never had visited. After the morning's hunt the party will assemble about noon at the Henry House, which is in the very center of the operations of the first battle of Bull Run. During the afternoon the President will drive over the battlefield. At 5:30 this afternoon the President and party in their special train will go to Brandy, Va., twenty-nine miles south of Manassas, where they will be the guests until Monday morning of relatives of Surgeon General Hixler.

Cortelyou Bags a Bird.

The President and party reached the lucky blinds for a breakfast and after such had been stationed the callers endeavored to entice the wily birds within gunshot.

A drove of six turkeys finally was discovered and later one of them fell to the gun of Secretary Cortelyou. President Roosevelt was unfortunate in being the only member of the party who did not get a shot during the morning. The turkeys are wild and scarce and Mr. Cortelyou's bird was the only one bagged.

At noon the party assembled at the Henry House for luncheon and for two hours afterward the President walked over the Bull Run battlefield, the points of historic interest being indicated and explained by Henry Seen, who now occupies the Henry House. Subsequently the party returned to the turkey covers and continued the hunt.

The day is perfect for the sport and the President is enjoying his outing immensely. The injury to his leg is giving him no trouble and he feels that his recovery is complete.

FORCED TO CLOSE.

Alleged Forgeries Drive Large Grain Exporting Firm Into Liquidation.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 1.—President R. J. Odendahl of the Odendahl Commission Company, limited, one of the largest grain exporting firms in the United States, has issued the following circular to the grain trade:

We regret very much to have to advise you that our firm is forced into liquidation and will not be able to pay its liabilities. You will spare us the necessity of making further explanation as they are painful. Our business has been very profitable and large, but the profits have been diverted into other channels, not through any fault of the writer.

Today's circular follows a widely circulated report of alleged forgeries on the part of a prominent officer of the firm, amounting to between $150,000 and $175,000, and at the present time the company's name is known to hold the accounts of Comptre Nationale d'Escompte de Paris, $70,000; Germania Bank and Trust Company, $50,000; Louisiana National Bank, $45,000; Commercial National Bank, $45,000.

Borrowed Large Sums.

The Odendahl Commission Company has done an enormous grain exporting business and for years has been in the habit of borrowing large sums from ten days to a month on unendorsed notes secured by bills of lading, warehouse receipts and blanket insurance policies. It is alleged that advantage has been taken of the high credit of the firm to borrow immense sums from banks on forged bills of lading and warehouse receipts, and that this has been the cause of the failure.

F. J. Odendahl, president of the company, was formerly president of the New Orleans board of trade and is one of the best-known business men in the South. The company bought extensively in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and other cities.

No warrant has been issued for the arrest of the official alleged to be responsible for the failure of the firm, and he is reported to have left the city.

The Word Bible.

The word Bible furnishes a striking instance of a world's rise from very low to high estate. To the bulk of English-speaking folk it now means the book of books. In Chaucer's day it meant any book whatever, or scroll to speak by the card, less equivocal than now. Tracing the word Bible straight home we find it as bodice, but another name for the papyrus reed of Egypt.

STRIKE BOARD'S RULING.

Any Change in Wages to be Effective Nov. 1.

IS NOT RETROACTIVE.

Notice Given to All Concerned in Order that they May Have Proper Basis for Calculations.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The anthracite strike commission has officially decided that if any change is made in the rate of wages of the men it shall date from tomorrow, November 1. This announcement was made by the commission through Recorder Wright in the following brief statement given out by him at 9 o'clock this morning:

"Voted unanimously that if the commission at the conclusion of its hearings and deliberations makes any award affecting existing rates of wages, such award shall take effect from November 1, 1902."

The recorder of the commission stated that this resolution was adopted by the commission because it felt that it was important to make its investigations deliberately and that it might be well in order to relieve itself from pressure from any source which might cause undue haste to inform the operators and the miners that should the investigation and the deliberations following it warrant any change whatever, either in the way of increase or reduction of wages, such change should be from a certain date, thus enabling all parties to facilitate their calculations.

The action of the commission in taking this step at this time will save the commission a lot of time. It is known that each side of the controversy would take a determined stand on the question of when the new rate of wages, if one is made, shall go into effect. The operators in their original proposition to President Roosevelt wanted the commission to fix the date. The miners wanted the prospective new rate to be retroactive and go into effect on the day when the miners returned to work, which was a week ago yesterday, October 23.

VIEW MINERS' HOMES.

Strike Commission Takes Drive Through Residence District of Workingmen.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The programme of the anthracite strike commission for today calls for an inspection of the Miners' colony at Green Ridge, two miles from the city, and a drive through the nearby territory for the purpose of viewing the habitations of the men who toil in the mines. The commissioners expect to complete their inspection of this region this afternoon and go to Wilkes-Barre tomorrow morning.

The members of the party were up early today and ready for another hard day's work. They left the hotel soon after the arrival of Commissioner Watkins, whose home is in this city. Mr. Watkins, owing to his intimate knowledge of mining in this region, is the guiding spirit of the party. He arranged yesterday's trip and has general charge of today's tour. In this he is assisted by the superintendents of the companies located in this vicinity and also by President Nichols of District No. 1 of the miners' union. The Miners' mine, which was inspected today, is operated jointly by the Delawares and Hudson and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Companies. The mine is one of the worst for miners in this territory. The veins are small and there is barely room enough for workmen to stand up. This colliery was visited at the suggestion of the mine workers' representatives.

Worst Mine in Scranton Region.

The commissioners' party left the hotel at 9:20 o'clock and drove to the Miners' mine. After donning suitable clothing the party proceeded under ground.

The Miners' shaft is 400 feet deep. The conditions at this colliery are claimed to be the worst in the Scranton region, the veins averaging less than three feet in thickness. The mine has been in operation twenty-two years and is built in the old style. The breaker is directly over the shaft instead of being 200 feet away from the mouth of the opening as the law now requires.

Gray and Spalding Used Up.

The commissioners inspected three breasts and were in the mines two hours and a half. The first breast was 2200 feet from the foot of the shaft and the commissioners had to walk along in a stooping position owing to the low roof. It was extremely tiresome for those unaccustomed to the mine.

At the face of the breast a miner and his helper were found. Some of the commission plied the two men with all sorts of questions. The miner said he was able to get four or five ears a day; told how much he made, and gave other information to the commissioners.

Judge Gray was so fatigued by walking in a bent-over position for an hour that he decided to go to the surface. He was hoisted to the top with Bishop Spalding.

Gen. Wilson was the most aggressive of the commissioners in seeking information. He did not appear to mind the physical discomfort and went everywhere. He asked many questions of both the company officials and of the miners and their representative and got a variety of answers. Commissioners Clark and Baker also plied the miners with many questions. The commissioners returned to the Hotel Jermyn at 1 o'clock.

GUESTS ARE TAKEN FROM HOTEL WINDOWS.

Curry House at Ironwood, Mich., Damaged by Fire to Extent of $3000.—Started in Laundry.

Ironwood, Mich., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—The Curry hotel was damaged by fire to the extent of $3000 today. The fire originated in the laundry in the basement and spread so rapidly that several guests had to be taken from upper story windows by ladders. The flames broke through the first floor, but quick work by the firemen saved the building. Samples displayed by traveling men were damaged by smoke and water. The losses are fully covered by insurance.

Millions of Feet of Finest Timber in Montana Being Destroyed.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 31.—An immense forest fire is raging across the river from Jocko, on the Flathead reservation. The flames are raging unchecked and millions of feet of the finest timber in this part of the state are being destroyed. It is believed that only a heavy rain or snowfall will serve to quench the fire.

BUILD A NEW BOAT.

Contract Signed for Construction of Yacht to Defend the America Cup.

New York, Oct. 31.—Commodore Lewis Cass Leachman, at a meeting of the New York Yacht Club, said that a new boat to defend the America cup would be built by the Herreshoff Manufacturing Company of Bristol, R. I., from the designs of Capt. Nat Herreshoff, and the contract for the yacht had been signed. C. Oliver Iselin will be the managing owner of the new boat, and she will be sailed by Capt. Charles Barr.

It was also officially stated that the Columbia would be sent to commission by J. P. Morgan, and that she would be managed by E. D. Morgan and sailed by Capt. Lem Miller. Also that the Constitution would be placed in commission, and that August Belmont, the head of the syndicate owning the yacht, would take charge of her, while Capt. Uriah Rhodes, her old skipper, and Capt. Norman B. Terry, a veteran in cup matches, would be her sailing masters.

Lipton Looks Up Balance at Bank.

London, Oct. 31.—Sir Thomas Lipton read with keen interest about the steps taken to build a new defender and immediately telegraphed his gist to William Fife, the yacht designer. When Sir Thomas Lipton went over the names of those composing the American syndicate he said: "Well, that certainly is formidable and it looks like business."

He added jokingly: "The first thing I do today will be to see how my balance stands at the bank."

Regarding the reports that work on the new defender was commenced before the challenge was sent Sir Thomas said: "I wish to say most emphatically that not a stroke of work was done until the challenge was received in New York. Any other course would have been an attempt to take an unfair advantage. I am not in the habit of doing that."

HEAVY LOSSES BY FIRE.

Conflagrations in Minneapolis, Pontiac and Montreal Do Considerable Damage.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 31.—Six firemen were injured at midnight in a fire that entailed a damage estimated at $250,000. The six-story building occupied by the Minneapolis Paper Company and owned by J. C. Oswald & Co. was destroyed. The stock of H. B. Straub & Co., coffee, tea and spice importers, was destroyed. The loss of this firm is estimated at $20,000.

Pontiac, Ill., Oct. 31.—Fire at the Illinois state reformatory destroyed the top half of the east wing of the old administration building. The loss is about $12,000. The fire started in the canteen shop in the fourth story of the east wing of the main building, in which are located the superintendent's office, dining room, officers' quarters and other apartments.

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Fire early this morning destroyed the wood work factory at Simpson & Poirer. The entire fire department was at once called out owing to the crowded conditions of the buildings in the vicinity of the blaze. The total loss will not exceed $100,000.

Sharon, Pa., Oct. 31.—The Morgan Opera House was completely ruined by fire at an early hour this morning. Loss, $85,000; insurance, $15,000.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Fire early today destroyed the three top stories of the fire-story building owned by George Builen & Co., millsters at 15 Pine street. The structure is in the midst of a colony of small frame houses occupied by laboring people, and for a time it was feared the fire would spread to them. The loss is estimated at $175,000.

Somerville, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis warehouses here caught fire at an early hour this morning and $50,000 worth of property was destroyed, including 200 bales of cotton. The insurance is small.

LEASE OF BARASA MINE.

Cleveland-Cliffs Company is Privileged to Buy Property Near Negaunee Any Time Within Year.

Negaunee, Mich., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—The lease which the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company has secured from the Barasa Iron Mining Company will permit the Cleveland corporation to purchase the Barasa mine at any time within the year mentioned in the agreement. The lease also permits the development of the forty acres upon which the mine is located, and there is little doubt that the showing made by this exploratory work will be such that the new company will avail itself of the purchase clause. The Barasa, located near this city, is a small mine of much promise, as there is already 200,000 tons of ore in sight. The fee of the Barasa property is owned jointly by Baptiste Barasa and the Marchetti boys of this city. Of late years the mine has been operated by the Barasa Iron Mining Company, offered as follows: President, John P. Mack, Marquette secretary and treasurer, B. W. Wright, Ishpeming, and E. O. Clark and P. Penning, Marquette, together with the officers, directors.

She is survived by one son, Charles A. Chapin, who resides in Chicago, and seven grandchildren, who likewise are residents of Chicago. Charles A. Chapin will inherit the greater part of his mother's wealth.

BANK PRESIDENT ARRESTED.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 31.—H. C. Christensen, president of the Sharpshooters bank, was arrested at the depot in Marysville, Mo., on the charge of embezzling the bank's funds. The amount which Mr. Christensen is alleged to be short is not made public, but it is said to be over $25,000.

Shoriff McGinnis of Taylor county, Ia., has been at Marysville for two days watching for Christensen, for it was believed he would come here to see relatives. Christensen has a large property enough to make the shortage good.

COMMISSION VISITS MINES.

Members of Arbitration Board See How Coal is Produced.

AT SCENE OF STRIKE.

Groping About in Narrow Workings is Rather Severe Experience for Commissioners.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 1.—The arbitration commission, which has been making a tour of observation of the Lackawanna valley during the last two days, left here on a special train over the Delaware & Hudson railroad at 8 o'clock this morning for Wilkes-Barre. The commissioners will spend the entire day visiting mines and mining towns in the Wyoming valley.

The members of the commission arrived here from Scranton at 9 o'clock this morning. The run being made along the east banks of the Lackawanna and Susquehanna rivers. The morning was very foggy, which shut out from the mining towns in the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys. When the special train arrived here it was switched to the tracks of the Lehigh Valley railroad and taken to North Wilkes-Barre. There the commissioners were escorted into the Prospect mine of the Lehigh Valley Company, where the morning was spent in groping through the workings. This afternoon the party will be taken on a special trolley car to the mining towns of Ashby and Sugar Notch for a view of the miners' houses.

Into a Pit 850 Feet Deep.

After the party had reached the Prospect shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, it was decided to go down the Dorrance because more veins of coal could be seen. This being All Saints day, a church holy day, there were fewer miners at work than usual. The commissioners were lowered into the pit which is about 850 feet below the surface at 10:45 o'clock. The Dorrance mine is a very gaseous one. On this account each member of the party was compelled to carry a safety lamp. Going through the workings a fire boss, whose duty it is to see whether there is any accumulation of gas anywhere, preceded the party.

A mile driver, named Ralph Evans, met his death in the Dorrance last night by falling into "a sump." This is a pool into which the hot steam from exhaust pipes empties.

The members of the commission remained underground until 12:30 this afternoon. Escorted by officials of the company and of the miners' union the party inspected several gangways, one of which runs under the Susquehanna river to the west side of North Wilkes-Barre. The commissioners were provided with safety lamps. The commissioners asked the usual questions of the men they found at work making repairs. This being a church holiday, no miners were at work.

CAR COLLIDES WITH A SWITCH ENGINE.

Passengers Thrown in All Directions.—One Passenger Killed and Three Seriously Injured.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—As the result of a collision between a Clybourn avenue electric car and a switch engine on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul today one person was killed, three seriously injured and a number of others badly shaken up. The accident occurred at the corner of Clybourn avenue and Wrightwood street at the intersection with the railroad tracks.

The electric car was bound down town and the fact that there were only about a dozen occupants accounts for the list of injured being no greater. Just as the car was crossing the tracks a switch engine came along and before anything could be done to avert the catastrophe, crashed into the side of the car, throwing the people in all directions and demolishing the car. The police were notified and the injured were taken to a hospital.

The dead: RICHARD WILSON, motorman of car, died on way to hospital.

The injured: Henry Yeager, injured in side; taken to hospital; will die.

Andrew Grant, injured internally, taken to hospital.

John Black, concussion on head; taken to his home.

AIR BRAKES FAILED.

Passengers on Runaway Train in Colorado Have Harrowing Experience.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 1.—Two hundred persons aboard a runaway train were treated to a harrowing experience on the heavy grade of the Rio Grande tracks between Tennessee pass and Eagle River canyon Wednesday morning. Disordered air brakes were the cause.

The limited California express was two hours late. Just after leaving Tennessee Pass station the engineer discovered that the air brakes did not respond, and he called for hand brakes. This started a panic, and fifty or more men and women hastened to the rear of the train, with the feeling that this was the safest place in case of a wreck.

The train ran for twenty miles before it was controlled, and at a rate of considerably more than a mile a minute. There is a difference of more than 2000 feet between the elevations of Tennessee pass and Eagle River canyon. At least fifteen miles were passed while the brakes were on, and the slowing down of the train was not effected till level country was reached.

HALLOWEEN PRANK CAUSES BAD ACCIDENT.

Boy Shoots Pea Into Motorman's Eye and Collision with Patrol Wagon Results.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—A 10-year-old boy, celebrating Halloween with a pea gun, caused a collision between an electric car and a patrol wagon last night in which nine persons were more or less seriously injured. A pea from his blower struck the eye of John Paul, a motorman on a Fulton street electric car just as the car was passing Franklin street, and Paul, smothering under the pain, clapped his hands to his face. It was only for an instant that he neglected the controls and the brake, but in that time the car crashed into the Larue street station patrol wagon that was conveying two patients to the Washington Home.

The patrol wagon was wrecked and all of the five persons riding in it were injured. Four persons in the car were also hurt.

The police were unable to learn the identity of the boy whose pea blower caused the accident.

HELD AS A KIDNAPER.

Mrs. C. H. Morrison of Waukesha is Under Arrest at Sterling, Ill.

Sterling, Ill., Oct. 31.—Mrs. C. H. Morrison of Waukesha, Wis., was arrested in this city by an officer of that city. She is charged with kidnapping Miss Ethel Valle, an 11-year-old adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shields. The latter are wealthy. The alleged kidnapping took place on October 9. The officers got on the trail of the woman, chased her to Appleton, Wis., Milwaukee, Chicago, and back to Beloit, where a clue was secured that the woman had come to this city. Mrs. Morrison claims that the child had been ill treated and abused. This, however, is denied by the Shields family. Mrs. Morrison has resided in this city for some time. She denies that the kidnapping was done for a money making purpose, but to give the child a better home. She and the child were taken to Waukesha.

Waukesha, Wis., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—It is now up to the courts to present the last act in the now famous Valle kidnapping case. Undersheriff Don McKay returned at 11 o'clock last evening from Sterling, Ill., with Mrs. Grace Ethel Valle and the little girl, Violet Ethel Valle, and they were taken care of until this morning by the sheriff. Mrs. William Shields, also accused of taking part in the transaction, was placed in custody this morning.

In the municipal court this morning the two women were placed under bail of $250 each and their hearing set for next Monday morning. The bail will be secured. The little girl was returned to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shields, her adopted parents.

MERGER OF STOCK YARDS.

Principal Beef-Packing Plants of the Company to be Consolidated.—Enormous Capital.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Two big consolidations are planned by beef interests. The packers will combine first and then effect a merger of all the stock yards in the country.

With the exception of the Chicago stock yards, which are controlled in Boston, all the properties involved are owned and controlled by the owners of the principal beef-packing plants. The different yards that will probably be included in the deal, aside from the Chicago yards, are those at Kansas City, East St. Louis, Omaha and Sioux City. The Armour interest is probably the largest in the Kansas City yards. The Armour, Swift and Morris control the East St. Louis yards, the Swifts own the St. Joseph yards, the Armours and Swifts own the East North yards, the Armours, Swifts and Cudahys control the Omaha yards, and the Swifts control at Sioux City.

While the control of the Chicago yards is held in Boston, the Chicago packers have large holdings of the stock also, and their recommendations would undoubtedly have great weight with the Eastern capitalists.

The plan for consolidating the various stock yards has not progressed as yet to a point where the amount of stock required has been more than discussed. It would undoubtedly run close up to $100,000,000, exclusive of the amount required for the original packing companies' combination, which is said to be $500,000,000.

DEDICATE SCIENCE HALL.

Honor Paid Peter White of Marquette, Mich.—He Has Been Good Friend to Northern Normal.

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 31.—[Special.]—The feature of today's session of the Upper Peninsula Educational Association was the dedication of Peter White Science Hall, as the state board of education has named the north wing of the Northern Normal School. The exercises took place this afternoon in the assembly hall of the south wing, and immediately thereafter the new building was thrown open for inspection. A number of men of state and national prominence were present.

Peter White, "first citizen of Marquette and the upper peninsula," for whom the new building is named, has been a good friend to the Northern normal, which has been the recipient of his generosity to the extent of several thousand dollars. An interesting coincidence in connection with the dedication is the fact that the date is also the anniversary of Mr. White's birth.

LIABLE TO SEIZURE.

Iowa Supreme Court Makes Contraband All Liquor Sent C. O. D. Into that State.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 31.—The Iowa supreme court has reversed two trial courts in Iowa on the question of the C. O. D. liquor sales by express companies. In both instances the express companies had liquors which they were transferring to purchasers in exchange for C. O. D. payments. Seizures were made and the cases tried in the district court, where the express companies won. Both cases were appealed and both are now reversed.

The holding of the court prevents express companies from handling liquor C. O. D. and makes such goods contraband and liable to seizure if found in the possession of the companies. The court holds that the privileges of original packers or of the freedom of interstate commerce does not apply to a business of this character.

THRASHES INSANE PATIENT.

Nurse Handcuffs Doctor of Wabash, Ind., and Then Beats Him.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 31.—Dr. Will Stewart lies at the home of his father, ex-County Commissioner Stewart, in a critical condition from an assault made upon him by his nurse, Albert Rachert. Dr. Stewart is insane from illness and overwork, and Rachert, his attendant, while dressing him became angry because his patient refused to obey him and, first handcuffing his victim, beat him unmercifully. He then fled to escape arrest.

Dr. Stewart has been taking treatment at Indianapolis and was recently brought home, his mental condition being almost hopeless. He will recover from his physical injuries, though they are severe.

CASE NO. 34,520.—Mr. Walter McLaughlin, of 3022 Jacob Street, Wheeling, W. Va., a machine hand working at J. A. Holiday & Son's planing mill, says: "I firmly believe had I not used Doan's Kidney Pills when I did I would not be alive now. I was in a terrible condition, and although I took quarts of medicine, and was attended by doctors, I got no better, but worse. Friends spoke of my bad appearance, and thousands knew about it. I could hardly get around and felt and looked like a dead man rather than a living one. ALL REPUBLICANS.

CARRY EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

The Entire Republican County and State Tickets Elected. Very Small Vote Polled.

The indications are that the republicans carried the state of Wisconsin by between 35,000 and 40,000 plurality. There are at this time many localities to hear from, but these will probably not make any great change in the final result. The vote throughout the state was very light, indicating that there were a lot of the voters who could not decide just where they were at, and stayed away from the polls. They knew there was something the matter with the republican administration, but evidently could not settle in their minds just where it was.

In Wood county the vote varied considerably, although there was evidence of a great many straight tickets having been cast. LaFollette carried the county by something over a thousand plurality, and the other republican candidates won by varying majorities, running down as low as two hundred, so far as can be told by the returns now in. Vincent and Sutor made the best run on the democratic ticket, and they lost by enough margin so that it was evident what was coming even early in the evening.

Webster Brown also carried the county by a slightly less majority than LaFollette, and reports from other counties in the district indicate that Brown will be elected.

All of the men on the democratic county ticket made a good run, and had the result been at all close at the head of the ticket, several of them would have been placed in office. The boys all made a good run, and while they did not secure enough votes to win out, they kept their republican adversaries guessing up to the last minute and showed that they were in the game at all times.

NEARLY A TRAGEDY.

Three Men Narrowly Escape Drowning at Biron.

Joe Schultz, Tony Schultz and Adolph Nevovski had a narrow escape from drowning on Friday while attempting to cross the river in a boat at Biron.

The three men had entered the boat just above the dam, and pushing off from the shore, they were caught in current and swept over the dam before they could do anything to save themselves. Some of gates in the dam were open and this made a stronger current than they figured on. The two Schultz brothers made their way to shore all right and had no difficulty with the exception of a thorough wetting, but young Nevovski was unable to swim and managed to catch hold of a rock that jutted out of the current just below the dam.

The water was so swift here that it was impossible to reach him with a boat, but a rope was thrown to him, which he fastened about his body and those on shore pulled him to safety.

When he reached shore however, he was pretty well filled up with water, and his companions took him to the engine room of the mill and used their best efforts to resuscitate him, which they succeeded in doing after some work.

The boys lost a wheel which they were carrying with them in the boat, as they were unable to find it after they had got ashore themselves. It was indeed very lucky that the accident did not result in the drowning of one or more of the occupants of the boat, they being favored by the fact that the accident happened very close to shore.

Monday morning we listened to a worthy address by Rev. Mr. Shaw. Rev. Shaw's object was to give us an increased interest in our studies at the present time and in education in general. He stated that the lowest achievement of education was to procure a living. Taking an algebra problem as an example, he carefully explained the utility of it, and showed how we could intensify, deepen and quicken our interest in our studies. Mr. Shaw stated that the life of man is a life of intelligence, and as the mind is constructed on a logical plan, can only be logical when it sees the relation and order of things in the universe. True intelligence gives us a growing capacity to see, know, understand and to enjoy.

J. A. Gaynor favored the school with an address last Wednesday morning. He showed us definitely that for every article used by us, or for any food consumed that we are the world's debtor. He divided the people of the world into three classes, those who depend on charity, or paupers, those who steal, or thieves, those who work, or working men. Mr. Gaynor urged us young people to belong to the working class and to qualify ourselves here in school in order that we may pay our debt to the world and render service for service.

The Senior class has finished reading Schiller's "Der Neffe als Onkel" and are now reading Arnold's "Fritz auf Fienien."

Friday afternoon the public schools of this city enjoyed a vacation because of the Teachers' association.

The Virgil class had an examination on the first book of the Aeneid Thursday morning.

The class of 1603 held their regular monthly class meeting on Wednesday.

Miss Ella Dalke of the class of 1902 was a high school visitor Friday.

DIES FROM INJURIES.

Tramp Who Was Beaten at Auburndale, Dies in Hospital.

An unknown tramp, who was hanging about Auburndale, received a severe beating on the night of October 25th and was subsequently taken to the hospital at Marshfield, where he died on the afternoon of the 28th, after lying in a comatose condition the greater part of the time since he received his injuries.

The man was identified by W. W. Noll as one Charles Curtis, who had formerly lived at Waldo and where his wife and three children now reside. Mr. Noll formerly lived in Sheboagan county and knew the man at that time.

Curtis appeared at Auburndale on the morning of the 25th and spent the day in loafing about the place. He had all the appearance and actions of a common tramp, and no special attention was paid to him. The next day it was reported that an unknown tramp had got mixed up in a drunken brawl, during which he had received a severe beating, from the effects of which he was liable to die. The man was in the village lockup, from where he was removed to the hospital at Marshfield when it was found that his injuries were liable to prove serious. Here he died without gaining consciousness enough to tell those about him what his name was.

It subsequently developed that the man who had beaten Curtis was John Kennedy, who resides at Auburndale. Mr. Kennedy stated that he had been awakened in the night by his wife who, had heard a noise as if some one was trying to get into the barn or that something was the matter with the horses. Kennedy got up and went into the yard where he was met by a man who attacked him with a club. Kennedy showed fight and knocked the fellow down and then proceeded to punch his head. After this the man seemed to be senseless and Kennedy summoned some of his neighbors and hitching up his team the man was taken to the village lockup.

He lay here for two nights and not gaining consciousness the doctor in charge concluded that he had been injured seriously and had him taken to Marshfield and placed in the hospital, where he subsequently died. An inquest was held and the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Charles Curtis had come to his death from the effects of blows administered on the left side of his head by one John Kennedy, and also that the blows had been administered in self defence.

Epworth League Notes.

The Epworth League contributed its share to the general Halloween merriment by giving a party in the Epworth parlors of the M. E. church. Young America was well represented and came with abundance of mirth pent up so that it could flow in the stream of enjoyment which all sought. One of the novel and entertaining features of the evening was a procession of those beings which have been the terror of every age and to which the world has given the name ghost. Egyptian darkness preceded their advent and continued with intermittent flashes of light during the period of their weird song and slowly moving train. The Mandolin club captivated the ears of all with several fine selections, its only rival being a sheet in human form which, while in repose, let forth several sonorous snores, dignified with the name of a piece of sheet music. Many took advantage of the opportunity to be initiated into the renowned society of the ghosts and to have their past, present and future told by two charming gipsies. Rosy cheeked apples and snowy popcorn satisfied the craving of the palate and humorous games brought laughter to those present.

The subject of next Sunday's lesson is entitled "God's Covenant and Ours." Miss Ruby St. Amour is the leader. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The regular monthly business meeting was held Tuesday evening in the church parlors.

The attendance contest is still in progress. The Red side has now 202 points and the White 201.

Library Hours Changed.—Owing to the fact that the school children have complained because the time was so limited between the closing of school and the time that the library closed in the afternoon the library commissioners have decided to change the hours of the institution somewhat. Hereafter the library will be open from 2:30 until 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 8:30 in the evening, with the usual time of 9 to 12 on Saturday forenoons. After six o'clock the children's room will be closed, and although the lights will not be out, no books can be drawn or taken from the shelves. Children under 16 years of age are requested to draw their books before six o'clock. This is the plan that has been adopted in the greater number of the cities of this size, and parents are requested not to send their children to the library after 6 in order that no trouble may be encountered in enforcing the rule. It has been claimed that some of the children have been using the library as an excuse to get away from home in the evening and it is thought that this rule will avoid this in the future.

A Hot Campaign.—It is probable that there will never be a much livelier campaign in the state of Wisconsin nor in country of Wood than the one just finished. There is not a town hall or cross roads in the country where the natives in that section have not been told the story of what constitutes a good government, and especially a good set of country officers, both from a republican and democratic viewpoint, and that in several languages. The good natured candidates have also furnished various and sundry kegs of a foaming brown substance that after sufficient application is calculated to make a man vote right if he is at all susceptible to argument. The candidates on both sides of the fence admit that it is all foolishness but say they do not see any way out of it, and as a consequence it is probable that this method of campaigning will continue in the future in much the same way as it has in the past.

Will Do Undertaking.—J. W. Natwick has purchased from M. A. Bogger the undertaking business that was formerly conducted by Mr. Bogger and will hereafter conduct the business in connection with his furniture establishment on the west side. For the present the business will remain on the east side and Mr. Bogger will assist Mr. Natwick in the business, but as soon as Mr. Natwick has made room for the business he will move it across the river. There has long been a demand for an undertaking establishment on the west side, and there is no doubt that Mr. Natwick will give his patrons the satisfaction they have been receiving of the former owner of the establishment.

Lost His Labels.—A bottle containing a half gallon of peroxide of hydrogen blew up in Otto's drug store on Friday last and resulted in the loss of a large quantity of gummed labels which were stacked below where the bottle was sitting. As peroxide of hydrogen is not explosive and is generally supposed to be about as harmless as water, the cause of the explosion cannot be told. Mr. Otto still has the labels, but they are badly stuck up. His loss will amount to something like forty dollars.

Charity Ball.—The editor acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to the charity ball to be given at Marshfield on Friday evening, November 7th. The ball is given by the Helping Hand society, which is a charitable institution, and the society has given a ball every year for some time, the proceeds being devoted to relieving the suffering of poor people of the city who may happen to need assistance during the cold weather.

Married in Minnesota.—Edwin L. Schultz and Miss Hattie B. Hill were married at Madson, Minn., on Sunday, October 19th. Mr. Schultz was formerly a resident of this city, but left here some two years ago and has since been a resident of Canby, Minn., where he has been in the employ of the Lund land agency. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz will make their home in Canby.

Halloween Dance.—The dance given by the Equitable and Fraternal Union on Friday evening was a very pleasant affair from a social viewpoint, but the attendance was not as large as could have been hoped for by those who had the affair in charge. The music furnished by the New Monarch orchestra was very good and everybody had a good time.

A Successful Sale.—The ladies of St. Catherine's Guild held a very successful supper and sale at the candy kitchen on Tuesday afternoon and evening, there being a good crowd in attendance the greater part of the day. They netted about $125 by their venture and wish to express their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage they received.

Halloween Party.—The young ladies of the Catholic church entertained their friends in a royal manner at a Halloween party on Thursday evening at the Foresters hall. The hall was filled with seekers after amusement and as it had been decorated very nicely, it presented a very striking appearance. Those who attended report a jolly time.

Opened the Hydrants.

Some person or persons, evidently boys bent on playing a joke on some one, opened the hydrants on Milwaukee street on Friday evening last and allowed the water to escape from the standpipe.

Now, while this was intended as a Halloween prank and probably not done out of maliciousness, at the same time it might have proven serious to some of the inhabitants of our city. The standpipe was known to be full of water that evening and had there been an alarm of fire any time during the night it is not at all probable that the engine would have been taken out, but an attempt would have been made to get water from the hydrants, and before the mistake could have been remedied it is probable that damage would have resulted. Boys should confine their jokes to something harmless.

Use Printed Envelopes.

Last year $500,000 pieces of mail went to the dead letter office and all but 500,000 were returned to the senders. From letters there was taken $7,000 in money, checks, money orders and other evidences of wealth to the face value of $1,750,000. The superintendent of the dead letter office says: Every newspaper writer would perform an invaluable service by urging upon every person who writes a letter to have his or her address printed upon the left hand corner of the envelope. A letter so marked would never come to the dead letter office, but if insufficiently addressed or without the proper stamps it could be sent back to the sender. This is one line along which the public needs education.—Ex.

Fifty Dollars Reward Offered.
During the past few weeks various depredations have been committed on school property. Several large window lights have been broken in the church building, obscene carvings have been made on the entry to the West Side high school building and on the fence about the school yard, a portion of the bell on the Howe high school building has been removed. These depredations have been committed in the evening and indicate a growing spirit of vandalism. In view of these facts it was decided at the meeting of the school board last Monday evening to offer a reward of $50.00 for information that will lead to the conviction of persons who have or may hereafter destroy any property owned or leased by the Board of Education of the City of Grand Rapids.

International Live Stock Exposition.
The entries for the third International Live Stock Exposition are all in and General Manager Skinner is happy over the outlook. There are more entries this year than at last year's show in nearly all breeds, showing earnestly the breeding interests of the country are undertaking to demonstrate the value of their breeds as meat producers.
Mr. Skinner said: "Having visited a great many of the show yards this season, I am particularly pleased that about all the good things of the year are going to 'Round Up' here. The animals entered are the prize winners at the various fairs, and I am sure that the exhibit will make the most critical judges marvel at its excellence."

Horse Sunbonnets in 1542.
The wearing of sunbonnets by horses in hot weather is by no means a modern invention. In an old Italian print, dated 1542, a gentleman is shown riding on horseback with an umbrella fixed over his own head and another over that of his horse.

SHOOTS YOUNG GIRL DOWN

Racine Young Man Attempts to Kill Woman He Loves.

FIRES THREE TIMES.

Miss Anna Sharbart is Not Badly Injured—Would-be Murderer Hunted Down by Mob.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 31.—[Special].—Rudolph Janoschak, a well known young musician of this city, shot Miss Anna Sharbart last evening as she was standing in front of her parents' home. Three shots were fired. The first bullet grazing the left side of her head, the shot being fired so close to her face that the powder blinded her eyes and the first singed her flesh. She fell in a swoon. Janoschak again fired as she lay on the ground, the sound of footsteps caused him to raise the gun and the bullet crashed through the front window of the Sharbart house and just grazed the head of a boarder. He was running as he fired the third shot and then disappeared. Miss Sharbart soon regained consciousness and it was found that the only injuries she had received were as given above. A big crowd joined in the search for the assassin, who was found near Turner hall. Threats of lynching were heard as the officers drove away hastily and took the prisoner to the county jail. Janoschak had spent most of the day in saloons on the north side. When he reached the Sharbart house last evening he asked the girl, whom he found out in front, if he might call on her. She refused his request and the shooting followed.

The young woman as well as her parents, it is understood, disliked the young man. He had never been encouraged to come to the house and the young girl says that he has followed her on all occasions and tried to force her to receive his attentions.

Rudolph Janoschak has resided in Racine several years. On the death of his father, a year ago, he was bequeathed considerable property and this he soon squandered. For some time he has slept in barns or vacant buildings. He has said he was willing to plead guilty.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 31.—[Special].—In an attempt to protect her mother from the vicious attack of her step-father, Myrtle Boyle, a sweet-faced little child of 12 years, met a horrible death. As near as can be learned McFarland, who is a well known lumber shaver of the city, came home intoxicated last evening and got into a quarrel with his wife. Becoming very enraged, it is alleged, McFarland picked up a large lamp oil from the sitting room table and hurled it at Mrs. McFarland. Myrtle Boyle, a daughter by the woman's first husband, stepped between her mother and the enraged man just in time to receive the lamp in the chest. Oil from the lamp spread rapidly over her clothing and in a short time she was all ablaze. Before the flames could be extinguished the little girl's ears, breast, arms and cheeks were roasted.

She was removed to a local hospital, where she suffered horrible pain all night, dying at 9:30 o'clock this morning. McFarland was arrested this morning and charged with assault with intent to kill. He pleaded not guilty and the hearing was set for Tuesday, he being placed under $1000 bond, which was unfurnished.

DIED FOR MONEY.

Theory About Awful Tragedy on Farm Near Lagrange, Walworth County.

Palmyra, Wis., Oct. 31.—[Special].—Developments in the Wicking-on case lead the authorities to think that there is little doubt but that the two brothers and their sister were murdered for their money. It has been discovered that at the time the fire was first seen a wagon drove away from the house. The driver did not make any effort to alarm any one that the house was on fire, although flames were bursting forth from the upper windows.

While the coroner's jury was under the impression that murder had been done, still in the absence of evidence it was forced to return a verdict of death from suffocation.

Search of the ruins brings to light large sums of money in tin and iron boxes. The body of one of the men was found near an iron chest which contained several hundred dollars in gold. The body of Miss Wicking-on was found in the basement, although the room she slept in was in another part of the house and had she been burned in bed her body could not possibly have fallen into the basement.

It is the theory of officers who are investigating that the robbers were surprised by the brothers and that a fight ensued and that the brothers were bound and left to burn to death. The sister is supposed to have tried to make her escape and ran into the cellar to get away from the robbers.

Albert Peterson, who discovered the fire, tells a story which strengthens the murder theory. He said: "I was awakened by the sound of a window driven rapidly past my house. There was nothing very peculiar about this in itself, but when I chanced to look out the window and saw flames bursting through the Wicking-on home I connected the vehicle with the fire. Now that the awful results of the fire are known, I feel sure that the occurrence of the murder is responsible for the fire. The robbers must have taken the key and locked the house from the outside, as the doors were locked when I arrived."

He burst in the rear door of the burning house, making his way through the dining room, passing the only stove in the house. He opened the door leading to the stairway and was driven back by a cloud of smoke. The fire, it appeared, had started in the sleeping rooms above. By the time he could arouse neighbors and return the house was in ruins.

By this time a crowd of neighbors had collected, but nothing could be done and the people were compelled to see the house totally destroyed without being of any avail.

Justice William Greening summoned a coroner's jury, which gave a verdict of death by fire, cause unknown.

Two brothers and one sister in Lagrange town, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Harwood of Ringwood, Ill., survive them.
